Dedication

NO greater sacrifice can men make than to give their lives for their country. Through the ages men have been called to fight for things dear to them. Once again the call comes; again they are on the march. They fight so that we may be free to live in liberty, and to pursue happiness. It is to these men, graduates of Lodi High School now serving in the armed services of our country, that we, the Class of 1942, proudly dedicate our annual.

Supervising Principal

We are in the midst of an age-old conflict—this issue between the men who seek to enrich themselves by plundering and those who know that the only enduring enrichment comes by giving. Mere death and destruction will never blind the vision of the man who invests himself in his country. This investment of self occurs when one does more than he is paid to do in any form of work for the common good. What you build with your hands may crash into ruins but what you build with your heart will survive like an immortal thing.

Principal's Message

MARINUS C. GALANTI

You have studied for the past four years under the supervision of the members of the staff of the Lodi High School. To my mind you have attained an education which should place you on the ladder leading to a great objective—an educated person. In this message let me give you my concept of such a person with the hope that you will use it as a guide for future progress.

To be an educated person you must know more than merely how to do something, whether it is giving a lecture, trying a lawsuit, or repair plumbing; you should know the significance of what you are doing. You should have a set of values—a "yes" and a "no" that are your own. You must learn to prefer for you have lived in the presence of things that are preferable. I do not mean that you should train yourself merely in conventions of polite society or conformities of crowd morality. Depart from both in many things. Learn about human life on this planet to see behavior in the light of a body of experience and relation of your actions to situations as a whole. When you do this you will have acquired a liberal education, and it makes little difference whether or not you have been trained in philosophy or mechanics. Then you will be transformed from an automaton into a thinking being.

IT WAS ALL IN FUN

NOW comes the time for a turnabout. The underclassmen have at one time or another been the pawn of the Senior's superiority and jokes. They have either by experience felt the pangs of being a lowerclassman or followed the general tide of resenting all upperclassmen. Well now that we've come to departing ways, we no longer wish to poke fun at or belittle our rather humble colleagues, instead we Seniors want to acknowledge them for their cooperation, friendliness, and the fine spirit shown throughout our years at Lodi High School.

THE Seniors wish to express their appreciation to the faculty for their encouragement and aid in sponsoring organizations. Their helpfulness has made for a fuller and richer school life.

With the existence of these various clubs, the students have been helped greatly in meeting new friends, getting new ideas for life outside of school, and having the pleasure of starting a new hobby which they will probably continue in the years to come. Many students would not have had the facilities to start the various forms of hobbies in their organizations had it not been for the interest shown by the faculty in aiding students to get supplies, and giving the students such splendid cooperation by working hand in hand with them.

Act Five
Features

"Ever
Since
Eve"

SENIOR PLAY

THE Senior presentation of "Ever Since Eve", a three act comedy by Florence Ryerson and Colin Clementa, was one of the highlights in the many events of the year, 1942.

Johnny Clover, a high school student, runs into many difficulties trying to make a success of the first edition of "The Penguin", the school newspaper. With the very able, but sometimes unwanted assistance from Susan Blake, the girls' editor, the "Penguin" turned out to be a great success despite the fact that Johnny got the measles, that both he and Spud, Johnny's best pal, fell madly in love with a pretty little Southern gal, and that both ran into trouble with "Officer Simmons".

The play was packed with laughter and fun galore for all. And why shouldn't it with such a fine cast!

SENIOR BALL

A TRANSFORMATION from a gym to a soft Yuletide setting took place on Friday evening, December 5, when the graduating class of '42 held its annual Senior Ball.

This cozy atmosphere was achieved with decorations which included evergreens placed around the gym, large packages representing boxes of Christmas gifts surrounding the orchestra, a huge, sparkling fireplace with twinkling flames which provided light, and red, white, and green streamers across the ceiling.

The girls in billowing gowns and boys outfitted in tuxedos danced to the lilting refrains of Vic Frazee's orchestra.

Will we ever forget the smiles and joy that were present at the Senior Ball? Of course not!

CLASS WILL

WE, the Class of 1942 of Lodi High School being of sound and disposing mind, hereby do make, execute this, our last will and testament, expressly revoking and annulling any wills by us at any time heretofore made.

FIRST: To Mr. Galanti we leave our heartfelt esteem and deep gratitude for his encouragement in directing us to attain our purposes.

SECOND: We hereby bequeath to the entire faculty our genuine reverence for their helpfulness and pleasant memories throughout our years at High School.

THIRD: To Miss Huber we leave our acknowledgements for her untiring efforts in supervising the production of this year book. All the praise and success achieved by this manuscript we owe to her.

FOURTH: To Mr. Grohman, we hereby bequeath a scarlet scooter so he can "scoot" after the seniors for their year book payments.

FIFTH: To Miss Narotsky we transmit by inheritance fifty million Free Frenchmen.

SIXTH: To the Junior Class we leave the following:

1. The respected title of Seniors and the debts that go with it.
2. The "Dagger Speech" and the wonderful Mercury Theater record presentation of "Macbeth."
3. The remainder of the Yearbook paper, which we know will be duly appreciated.

SEVENTH: To Mr. Scandariato we leave an insurance policy for any casualties that might occur in chemistry class.

EIGHTH: To the Guidance Department, Mr. Lalumia, Mr. Lowell, Miss Stassi, and Miss Toronto, we leave our sincere admiration and sedatives for the headaches we may have given you.

NINTH: To Tom Aulito we leave Anita Focarino's heart and an isolationist policy.

TENTH: To Miss De Vries we leave our many thanks and appreciation in trying to fulfill our every wish concerning our class jewelry.

CLASS WILL

ELEVENTH: To Eugene Egan we leave John Lopez's appreciation of the feminine form.

TWELFTH: To the men who are "1-A in the Army, and A-1 in our Hearts," Mr. Denooyer and Mr. Gabriel, we bequeath our sincere wishes that you may return victorious "generals."

THIRTEENTH: To—Oh no! (Ed. note: We're skipping this item because we don't want to take any chances.)

FOURTEENTH: To Donald Stark we leave John Gutches' dread of Latin and Algebra and a most critical attitude so he can frighten his colleagues as John did with us.

FIFTEENTH: To Fred Bavignoli we leave Elroy Di Maria's oratorical genius.

SIXTEENTH: To some unsuspecting lowerclassman we bequeath the ability to laugh at his pal's jokes as Frank Munsterer did Robert Pool's.

SEVENTEENTH: To Claude Rigon we bequeath Wilhelmina Kopchinsky's stenographic ability.

EIGHTEENTH: To Paul Roosen we devise nothing. It isn't strange, for you have the finest elements of any character; but our only desire is for your safe return.

NINETEENTH: To the war-torn world we leave hopes for an everlasting peace.

TWENTIETH: To Mr. Iaciofano we award the Pulitzer Prize for the publication of a most brilliant and entertaining Jefferson News.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, we have hereunto set our hands and seals this thirty-first day of January, 1942.

Signed, sealed, published, and declared by the said Class of 1942, the above named, as and for our last will and testament in the presence of those who were both present or behind our backs, and in the presence of each other or behind their backs, have hereunto subscribed our names as witnesses on this nineteenth day of June, 1942.

CLASS PROPHECY

"GOOD evening, Ladies and Gentlemen. This is your outside commentator, Robert Pool, speaking in front of the Jefferson Theater where the world premiere "Twenty Years from Today" is being presented. Curious crowds are jamming the sidewalks. Captain Frank Tabano has his whole force of Salvatore Mazzoni, Emil Slembariski, Albert Schrieke, and Joseph Ward fighting to keep the walks clear. The first car draws up. Leonard Nach, the Jefferson Doorman, steps to the car and opens the door for the great politician, William Engravalle, with his secretary, Jennie Szoja. Chauffeur William Galler tips his cap and drives away. In the crowds I recognize Andrew Gallopo, Wilhelmina Kopchinsky, Gus Raia, and Sarah De Grado. Robert Ostrochovsky opens the theater door for Isadora Como, a foreign correspondent. The number one debutante, Irene Roslasly, strolls to the door escorted by the District Attorney, Frank Dianuzzo. Photographer Lester Czesak is taking pictures of the famous explorer, Julius Monkowski, as he gets out of a taxi driven by Angelo Senaldi. Spectators Ruth Castagna and Rose Gregory rush up to get a glimpse of Edward Erdman, President of the First National Bank of Lodi. Late comers, Norma Trocola, Theresa Tuzzolo, Evelyn Schmitz, Lillian Seemann, and Lawrence Toscano are being turned away by ticket sellers Jean Alesso, Dorothea Carius, and Dorothy Defarro. Eleanor Mooney and Alice Nethal rush in escorted by Anthony Mosca. Most of the crowd disperses, but Russell Lo Cascio, Jennie Arena, and William Lapsley remain in hopes of a last glimpse of the celebrities. Curtain time in five minutes, so your outside commentator, Robert Pool, is signing off."

After receiving the programs from Carole Jaeger, the girls and Anthony Mosca were ushered to their seats by Edward Andrey. They were surprised to find themselves seated beside Emily Nieradka and Marie Choope, owners of the Nieradka-Choope Business School.

"Why, Eleanor, do you know who has the lead in the play? Angela Hohn has it, and Bob Cheply is playing opposite her. Yes, and look at the rest of the cast: Guido Boggio, Rose Maio, Howie Janotta, Audrey Urban, Ann Riedel, June Janotta, Lawrence Van Hook, Antoinette Santora, Rose Romano, Edward Skrzynski, Fleming Norris, Catherine Losino, James Montalbano, Anthony Bua, and Julius Dedinsky."

"Look girls, here's an advertisement from the florist where I bought your corsages. It says, 'Buy Pretty Posies at Pillar's Petite Shoppe'. These advertisements are certainly interesting. Would you like to go to Piazza's Plaza or Kmetz's Cocktail Lounge? How about some perfume, Eleanor? It says, 'A new and original perfume by the House of Louis "Phillippe" Infante'. 'What better way for feet to go forward best, than in Roger Helias' all-leather shoes?' Alice, is this where you got your fur coat, at I. J. Falcone?"

"My! Isn't that gentleman who is walking with Dorothy Cavallo well-dressed! Ton-nee! You should get a hat like the one Mr. Basilotta has on instead of that stovepipe you're wearing. Evelyn Wittig told me he buys all his hats at Frank Corso's Haberdashery."

"Instead of looking at the men, you should read the program. You know most of these people. Listen! Director Thomas Castello presents "Twenty Years from Today" by Elroy Di Maria; Assistant Director, Harold Hagens and his secretary, Marie Gramegna. Staff for Mr. Castello: Personal Representative, John Wark; Company Manager, Edward Govignon; Manager's secretary, Gloria Fleisch; General Press Representative, Doris Sacawa; General Stage Director, Edward Edwards; Stage Manager, John Velock; Assistant State Manager, Fred Yelavich; Properties, Louis Gebbia, Catherine Giordani, Leonard Place; Electricians, Lester De Baun, David Dowson; Sound, George Anzelmo, Art Jackowski, Frank Giordani; Carpenters, Douglas Emr, and John Grembowiec; Wardrobe Mistress, Genevieve Bruno; Tailor, John Lukaszewicz; House Physicians, James Librie and Marcel Laguerre; Nurses, Georgette Sindelar and Irene Camanini; Plumber, William Thornton; Business Manager, Stanley Wdovjak; Business Staff, Etta Cirello, Marie De Pasquale, Emily Fedick, Sophie Friedman, Gloria Kozich, Bernard Nowosielecki, Kasmiera Olender, and Anna Orsini; Scenery built by Walter Yakubosky; Prompters, Roy Bower and Marguerite Perrier; Make-up, Frances Anzalone, Fernanda Hudzik, Doris Wacht, and Irene Warchol; Costumes designed by Rosalie Byrne and Mary Ruberto; Technicians, George Becker and Stanley Fallet; Coiffeurs, Olga Cimpko, Celia Cioletti, and Margie Di Yanni; Ushers, Alex Eurist, George Stein, Frank Tywoniak; Usherettes, Charlotte Baranski, Bernice Garrick, Gloria Keppler, June Robertson, and Ellen Voitel; Ticket Collectors, Julius Picciano, Emil Sondey, and Joseph Karpinski; Firemen, Nick Lattanzio, Maynard Kooistra, Edward Hurban, and Paul Gerardi; Program Distributors, Ann Tabano, Josephine Lo Proto, and Isabelle Vagi; Ticket Seller, Charles Palumbo; Murals painted by Marion Aglito; Program printed by John Gutches.

"Why goodness!" exclaims Alice, "We know them all. I wonder who those people are coming down the aisle. I guess that's the orchestra. Sure enough! Look who they are: Marion Hoving, Henry Clausen, Kay Kaufmann, Russel Compesi, George Robb, George Voltzow, Louis Croes, Harriet Heckel, Ardree Heissler, John Curotto, Olimpio Lopez, Margaret Dedinsky, Paul Rostkowski, Dorothy Horant, Vincent Marchese, Evelyn Saluppo, Ann Sproviero, and Peter Stack."

The house lights dim, the orchestra rises, the curtain opens, and the first act begins.

* * * * *

"That was excellent, don't you think so girls? Oh, Eleanor, did I tell you about May Allen's accident? It seems that she and Helen Blum were in a crash with May's car. Ethel Hlywa told me that it happened in front of the

CLASS PROPHECY

Millinery owned by Caroline and Rita Gentilello. Girls, look! There's that famous Spanish Matador, John Lopez, with Tom Orsini and Dot Bartels, the pilot and air hostess, who accompanied him from Spain.

"Of all people! Just look who's sitting in the next row! The celebrated Four Horsemen of Notre Dame, Ray Busico, Andrew Stepien, Edward Stolarz, and Dan Luciano. There's Coach 'Zeb' Czaikoski with Manager Joe Sproviero, and Frank Munsterer, publicity manager."

"I just remembered I promised to meet Pat Trella, the distinguished poet, and her mischievous friend Irene Tencza in the lobby. Let go there now, Tony."

"Good evening everyone. I'd like you to meet our escort, Mr. Mosca. Tony, these are the Misses Ann Buczek, Josephine De Franco, Irene Fehrs, Ann Hyvl, Carmella Bianca, and Josephine Cimiluca. How do you do?"

"Have you seen Jessie MacLean, the world-wide traveler, Irene?"

"I haven't seen her yet, but I was very surprised to meet Admiral Paul Roosen of the United States Marines. Evelyn Schnebelen, Loretta Palumbo, and Vincent Cirello asked me if you were going to be here tonight. Vincent wanted you to meet Supreme Court Chief Justice Howard Bowers and the artist, Kay Burke."

Tony was just about to leave the lounge when Anthony Calleo slapped him on the back and shouted, "Hi Tony, you old buck! I haven't seen you in a long time. Just the other day Marinus Jagt, Joseph Manzo, and I were talking about old times. Remember the time when Charles Ott, Kenneth Pletsch, Robert Poupon, and Salvatore Russo had to take gym with the girls! That was funny! Remember the Senior Ball with all the pretty girls like Marion Murray, Olga Kardash, Ruth Hubsmith, and Grace De Lorenzo!"

The head usher, Edwin Wood, walked through the lounge calling "Curtain time! Second act is about to begin in a few minutes."

"Tony, where have you been all this time? Philomena Botta, Ann Carnevale, Millie La Barba, and Edith Pinand wanted to give you an invitation to the car show given by the Schedivy-Woodley Auto Company. Come, let's sit down."

"There's Nick Narbone and his assistant, Marie Rigon. He's the chemist who disagrees with the dietitian, Marion Macko, on her theory of bananas. That garage mechanic, Bob Facella, certainly can talk. Doesn't he know the curtain is going up?"

* * * * *

"The audience seems to have enjoyed the second act. President of the Texas Oil Company, Dan Hempstead, and his secretary, Evelyn Kobscenski, are going to be exhausted if they keep on applauding with such enthusiasm."

CLASS PROPHECY

"Alice, did you notice the advertisements on this page? Look at this one from Gomes-Van Howling Paint Company, and this one from Koc-Cammarata Beauty Salon. Here's someone we know. Mr. Cheply's tuxedo was furnished by the Marasek-McLaren Company. The exquisite furniture was furnished by the Prall-Rafy Company. I never thought these people would be in business. Look! Spangles and jewels from the Wessel sisters; Costa's cigarettes, cosmetics from the Jablonski Trio, camera from Kinchley's Sport Shop.

John MacCulloch, the financial backer of the play, sat in a box with his guests, Frances De Marco, Mildred Rusin, Florence Dvorak, Rose Pachel-la, Benjamin Rockovitz, George Gaudio, and Helen Rizzo. In the opposite box were seated the members of the "Elite Club": Anita Focarino, Mary Koney, Eleanor Lapsley, Doris Seaman, Eleanor Milano, Margaret Strohmeyer, Fred Rakowski, Robert Schneider, Harry Kohring, Alfred Mosca, and Bernard Focarino.

Did the audience like it? Just listen to the applause!

In the lobby the author, Elroy De Maria, was showered with congratulations from Adeline Guglielmino, Eleanor Kostroun, Rose Gigante, Angelina Novelle, Helen Snyer, Anthony Tamborini, Carmella Orlando, Helen Pasiut, Russell Schulz, Marjorie Rieck, Josephine Sproviero, Mario Vuolo, Josephine Santangelo, and Paul Bobucky.

Mildred Wisse, Miss Hohn's secretary, desperately tries to turn away the autograph hunters, Eleanor Curcio, Phylina Trocola, Silvia Frustieri, Agnes Messineo, Olga Tackach, Frank Kotek, Ann Kiel, Rachael Trocola, and Kenneth Messineo.

Kmetz's Cocktail Lounge provided entertainment for Veronica Kobylarz, Matteo Giannino, Angelina Orlando, Michael Sistar, Evelyn Williams, Marie Galmiche, Olga Diaczok, Roman Wicherski, Nancy Tropona, Josephine Canonico, Florence Guarneri, Helen Guinan, Emma Mappa, Frances Klecar, and Josephine Zangara. The party reminisced over their high school years as the orchestra softly played "Auld Lang Syne."

Movie Talk

By Archer Winsten

John "The Great Profile" Lopez and Marion "You All" Murray should be proud of their fine performances in "Ever Since Eve"...Angela Hohn has starred in three L. H. S. productions. The plays speak for themselves...Bob Cheply was superbly cast as the editor of the "Penguin" in the Senior play.. That little stick of dynamite, Audrey Urban, always can be depended upon for some good acting...Russel Compesi surprised every one when he strutted on the stage as the football captain, followed by his team, a pack of wolves...Rose Romano's and

Elroy Di Maria's "kissing scene" was "Oh Boy!" as Elroy puts it, "We weren't exchanging wisdom teeth."

The entire cast is to be commended for their fine acting and loyalty toward their fellow-classmates. Only words of praise and appreciation can best express the endless efforts of the directors, Mrs. March and Miss Timinski.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

By Antoinette Donnelly

Dear Miss Donnelly:
I have auburn hair, light brown eyes, and a snow-white complexion.

What color uniform do you think that I should go out with?

Marion Aglito--

Dear Marion:

With your features you'd go good with anything worthwhile.

Dear Miss Donnelly:

I'm a blonde and have blue eyes and the cutest smile whatever. Do you think if I were to lease myself to a beauty parlor, I would be more beautiful?

Fernanda Hudzik--

Dear Fernanda:

Never mind leasing your beauty. How about lending it?

Dear Miss Donnelly:

What I would like to know is, should I become a model or shouldn't I? Look at my picture and please tell me.

Charlotte Baransky--

Dear Charlotte:

Be a model!

DORIS BLAKE'S LOVE ANSWERS

Dear Miss Blake:

Every time I pass a group of boys, they whistle or call to me. What should I do?

Puzzled!
Doris Wacht (Blondy)

Dear Puzzled:

Are you kidding?

Dear Miss Blake:

A boy will visit me in the near future. How can I keep him interested?

Marie Galmiche--

Dear Marie:

Have plenty of food, turn the lights low, get some soft music, and if he does not respond, give up the Moron.

Dear Miss Blake:

I have a crush on a young man--ah! what a crush! He doesn't know it. How should I let him know? Kay Burke--

Dear Kay:

Simply roll those beautiful Irish blue eyes and let him worry from then on.

THE LYONS DEN

By Leonard Lyons

The very likeable Irene Roslasly leaves us pleasant memories...Mary Koney is probably the only girl who has been to most of the L. H. S. games...Irene Tencza's bits of humor helped to brighten some of our less interesting classes...Keep smiling through "Reno"...Lester De Baum and Lester Czesak, two all-'round regular fellows...We hope El Milano's dream of teaching the binomial theorem to a class of her own comes true...Harriet "Hazy" Heckel, one of the kindest girls here. She's never been heard repeating gossip...Will we forget Ann Hyvl's cleverness and sweetness. Never!...Two "grand" and worthwhile seniors, Irene Fehrs and Dorothy Cavallo. They're everybody's pals...What's this we hear about Tom Costello's joining the Navy? Best of luck to you, Tom.

THE POWER HOUSE

by JIMMY POWERS

OBSERVATION: A good football player and fine captain all rolled up to form Ed. Stolarz... The quiet and unassuming Frank Munsterer should be congratulated on his excellent news coverage of the sporting events at Lodi High... Is it true that Joe Sproviero has turned down a contract for $10,000 a year as pilot for the Chicago Bears so that he might be coach Piela's right-hand man?

FORECAST: Howie Janotta is now definitely settled in Bogota, where he divides his time between five beautiful sub-debs and his coaching duties... Zeb Czaikowski has led the famous Brooklyn Dodger Team for the past five years. Due to his unrelenting effort, relations between Wallington and Brooklyn have again been renewed... Andy Stepien is now reposing at Sing Sing because he demonstrated his wrestling tactics to the wrong guy--a traffic cop... Julius "Tiny" Dedinsky now owns a midget circus. His troupe is the toast of society and includes a juggling act with 15 milk bottles... Jumbo Luciano has traveled to India where he maintains a private harem. He raises female ostriches.

By BROOKS ATKINSON

George Kmetz has proven himself a very versatile person. He's a good singer, a good actor, and also president of the Senior Class...

"Is this a dagger which I see before me?" No, it isn't a dagger, but it is a group of girls just as dangerous-- Doris Sacawa, Marion Hoving, Marion Macko, and Marie Rigon. These girls took part in the college English class's production of "Macbeth". They didn't outshine the Mercury Theater production but they made the Seniors giggle and they really did frighten the Juniors with ghosts, daggers apparitions, and above all, the witches's stew.. Is there a better performer on the football field than Marge Dedinsky, L. H. S. shapely, strutting majorette? How we enjoyed the band!

...How could we mention college English's memorable "Macbeth" and not say a word about Bob Pool and his characterization of the porter? It was one of the "highlights" of the play. Bob gave a very funny and convincing performance.

The Correct Thing

By Elinor Ames

Dear Miss Ames:
Tonight I am going to a formal dance--the first time I have ever gone to one. Could you please advise me on some "etiquette"? (Frightened)

Audrey Becker--
Dear Miss Becker:
All you have to do is act natural and I am sure you will turn out to be the "life of the party".

Dear Miss Ames:
The sweetest girl invited me to dinner and I accepted the invitation. Please give me a few tips on how to act. You know, I get "sort-a-excited" when I'm with her. Fleming Norris--

Dear Mr. Norris:

Just be yourself--a real gentleman.
Dear Miss Ames:

I have just accepted an invitation to the annual "Gridiron Ball" and I don't know the first thing about what to do. Please help me.
Kay Kaufman--
Dear Kay:

Don't worry about it. Such a sweet young lady will always instinctively do the correct thing.

By BOSLEY CROWTHER

Eddie Skrzynski's portrayal of "Cappy" the stuttering Irish cop is nothing in comparison to how he acts in his classes... Even though she is only four feet, nothing, Rose Maio packed a mighty wallop as "Mamma" in the family of the success of the year, the "Family Upstairs"... It was too bad that June Janotta's talents and regalia were only feasted upon by the girls' gym classes. As a publicity gag, June was garbed in old-fashioned gym bloomers, her poor bothers's sneakers, long black stockings, and paper mache muscles... Marge Strohmeier and Jay Canonico are two real trousers.

"I'M ONLY BEING PATRIOTIC. IF WE DON'T GO TO THE PROM—, I CAN SPEND MY MONEY IN SAVINGS STAMPS"

"NAL'S REALLY CRAZY ABOUT ME... HE SAYS I'M WORTH MY WEIGHT IN SAVINGS STAMPS"

ALMA MATER

Near the old de-serve wa-ters on a lofty hill

Stands our mi-si-ble al-ma Ma-ter Proud in glo-ry still

Sing her praises never ceas-ing As we've al-ways done

Then we honor al-ma Ma-ter Hon-or Jeffer-son
